

Jim Rehtin Named President of HealthCare Partners' California Market

Rehtin brings 14 years of health care leadership to HCP's California patients

EL SEGUNDO, Calif., Jan. 21, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- DaVita HealthCare Partners Inc. (NYSE: DVA), a leading independent medical group in America, today announced the appointment of Jim Rehtin as president of HealthCare Partners' California market effective Feb. 15, 2016. In this role, Rehtin will report to HealthCare Partners Chief Operating Officer Joe Mello.

Rehtin, who currently serves as senior vice president of strategy at DaVita HealthCare Partners (a position he will retain), will succeed Dr. Prati Patel, M.D., who plans to retire at the end of 2016. Patel will continue to serve the company as president emeritus throughout 2016 and will remain an advisor to the company for the foreseeable future.

"Jim has a proven track record as a trusted advisor in the healthcare practice at Bain as well as a strategic thinker during his time at HealthCare Partners," said Mello. "Prati has built a strong foundation in the California market and we are grateful to have her ongoing guidance as an advisor."

Rehtin joined DaVita HealthCare Partners after nearly 14 years in Bain's Chicago office, where he advised clients as a partner in the healthcare industry practice. Rehtin began his career as a volunteer with the Peace Corps in the Democratic Republic of Congo. He earned his MBA from Harvard University and a bachelor's degree in political science from DePauw University.
