DaVita.com Gives Away Recipe Cards for Kidney Diets

PRNewswire-FirstCall EL SEGUNDO, Calif.

DaVita Inc. has announced a new promotion to give away free, kidney-friendly recipe card sets on the company's kidney disease educational website. The promotion is to help people who follow a renal diet enjoy a variety of tasty foods that are healthy for their condition.

There are five stages of chronic kidney disease as defined by the National Kidney Foundation. The stage is determined by a person's glomerular filtration rate (GFR). Because chronic kidney disease generally progresses slowly over time, knowing a person's stage of kidney disease will indicate how the person should be medically treated including their recommended diet. DaVita.com features a GFR Calculator that can calculate a GFR, as well as information about the stages of chronic kidney disease.

For those with chronic kidney disease that are not yet on dialysis (stages 3 and 4), their prescribed diet would generally be lower in protein and sodium to help prolong kidney function. People with end stage kidney disease (stage 5) who are on dialysis must follow a prescribed renal diet, which in most cases includes significantly reduced amounts of phosphorus, potassium and sodium, which are no longer filtered and removed by the kidneys, and restricted amount of fluids, while still getting enough protein and nutrition.

The free recipes on DaVita.com are designed for people at every stage of kidney disease including those on the "diabetic dialysis" diet. Because both the dialysis diet and the diabetes diets have different food restrictions, the recipes are helpful in providing tasty solutions and adequate nutrition, while being mindful of the restrictions of both diets.

In addition to giving away the set of 20 kidney-friendly recipe cards printed with full-color pictures on durable, high-gloss card stock, DaVita.com also features over 250 recipes in the Recipe Section of the website. Visitors will find categories including: Breakfasts; Appetizers & Snacks; Salads & Salad Dressings; Meat, Poultry & Seafood; Rice, Pasta & Breads; Vegetables; Sauces & Seasonings; Desserts and Beverages.

The Recipe Section is one of the most popular on the site along with the Diet and Nutrition Section.

DaVita.com provides comprehensive information about kidney disease, dialysis and diabetes with detailed overviews including: definitions; causes and symptoms; controlling diabetes and high blood pressure to prevent kidney disease (diabetes and high blood pressure are the top two causes of kidney disease); prolonging kidney function; how treatments work and much more.
