DaVita's acquisition of PDI will add 24 dialysis centers to its operations and several acute services agreements, representing a total census of approximately 1,700 patients. This transaction strengthens DaVita's presence in the states of Michigan, Texas, Pennsylvania, Alabama, New Jersey and West Virginia, while adding a new presence in two additional states, Connecticut and Massachusetts. PDI's current annualized revenue is approximately $75 million and current dialysis revenue per treatment is approximately $286. The acquisition is anticipated to be EPS neutral in the first year.

Completion of the transaction is subject to customary closing conditions including the receipt of bank approval under the terms of DaVita's credit facility. The Company also intends to amend its credit facility and increase the term debt by $250 million in order to fund ongoing acquisition activities and potential share repurchases over time. The Company has received Hart-Scott-Rodino antitrust clearance for this transaction.

Kent Thiry, Chairman and CEO of DaVita, commented, "PDI is a leading regional company in our industry and represents an important strengthening of our presence in several core markets." He added, "The two companies share a common focus on quality and culture. The transaction fits with the Company's target strategies and is expected to provide longer-term market synergies."

Mr. Thiry also said, "We are looking forward to joining the dedicated teammates and physicians associated with PDI in continuing to provide quality care to their ESRD patients and to expanding our relationships with PDI medical directors and the respected nephrologists in these communities."

Patrick Ryan, Chairman and CEO of Physicians Dialysis, stated, "This is an important day for the company as all our team has worked hard together to build PDI. We share a common mission and culture with DaVita. The company, under Kent's leadership, will have the resources to continue to build upon our foundation, while ensuring that our patients continue to receive superior quality care and our team members have outstanding opportunities for professional growth."
