

Suzanne Hansen Returning to HealthCare Partners as Senior VP of New Market Integration

DENVER, Oct. 7, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- DaVita HealthCare Partners (NYSE:DVA), a leading independent medical group in America and a leading provider of kidney care services, today announced that Suzanne Hansen is returning to HealthCare Partners as a senior vice president supporting clinical transformation efforts. From 1991 to 2013, Hansen held various roles at HealthCare Partners including vice president of operations.

"Suzanne's return to the HealthCare Partners family will bolster our efforts to bring demonstrated best practices to provider organizations across the country making the transition from fee-for-service to value-based contracting," said Misha Palecek, HealthCare Partners' chief transformation officer. "By leveraging her expertise in population health management, Suzanne will be invaluable in bringing HealthCare Partners' proven model of care to providers nationwide."

For the past year, Suzanne has worked for HealthCare Partners as a consultant, first working in New Mexico with ABQ Health Partners, and then in Philadelphia with Tandigm Health. Prior to her consulting work, Suzanne served as senior vice president and general manager of the population health division at Accretive Health. There, she led a team that delivered roadmap planning, technology and management solutions to integrated delivery networks that were making the transition from fee-for-service to value-based reimbursement models.

"It's an exciting time to be returning to HealthCare Partners," said Hansen. "I enjoy leading teams that create lasting solutions for the local medical ecosystem, measurably improving both customer and organizational outcomes, for both employed medical group models as well as affiliated physician models."

Suzanne received her master's degree in health administration from the University of Southern California and her bachelor's degree from the University of California, Los Angeles.
