

DaVita Continues Investing in Teammates' Professional and Personal Development

More than 1,700 teammates gathered at the Colorado Convention Center for DaVita University Academy

DENVER, Aug. 23, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- DaVita Kidney Care, a division of DaVita Inc. (NYSE: DVA), and a leading provider of kidney care services in the United States, today celebrates the more than 1,700 teammates (employees) who attended DaVita University Academy, the company's foundational leadership development and cultural orientation program for new teammates.

"At Academy, we strive to provide teammates with valuable, whole-person learning so they can apply these lessons to their lives at home, within our DaVita Village, with our patients, and in our communities," said Dave Hoerman, chief wisdom officer for DaVita. "We believe that by investing in experiences that help our teammates become their best selves, they will be happier in their lives and more fulfilled at work every day."

Teammates traveled from all around the United States, as well as far as Colombia to attend the event, held Aug. 15-16 at the Colorado Convention Center in Denver. They had the opportunity to learn about DaVita's distinctive culture, study new methods and techniques to improve interpersonal communications skills, identify ways to enhance leadership back at their centers or departments, tour Casa del Mundo (the company's headquarters located in downtown Denver) and much more.

The company created DaVita University to offer training and development programs to teammates, focusing on personal and professional growth that leads to being great partners in healthcare to patients.

This year, DaVita was recognized among Training Magazine's Top 125 for its exceptional training and leadership development programs.
