

DaVita HealthCare Partners Announces Leadership Changes for HealthCare Partners

DENVER--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Nov. 20, 2013-- DaVita HealthCare Partners Inc. (NYSE: DVA) today announced transitions within the executive leadership team of its HealthCare Partners (HCP) business unit. Matthew Mazdyasni will resign from his HCP position and Dr. Craig Samitt, M.D., and Dennis Kogod will both expand their roles.

Mazdyasni, executive vice president and chief financial officer, has been at HCP for 30 years. He will transition his responsibilities by early 2014.

"I want to convey my thanks and appreciation to Matthew for his dedication, professionalism and friendship," said Robert J. Margolis, M.D., CEO of HealthCare Partners. "Matthew's tremendous leadership efforts have played a major role in securing our organization's reputation as one of the nation's leading high-performing value-based delivery systems.

"I am confident that Craig, an exceptional physician executive with a depth of professional experience, and Dennis, a tremendous leader who has contributed to DaVita's growth and success over the years, will be a strong leadership team and will work to develop the potential of HCP's opportunity and promise," added Margolis.
